Ronnie,

no 4 $500 ($5-)

you are a good-looking guy who seems like he doesn't have a care in the world! We've had some fun times together such as the nite Teresa, me, you, John, & Tim went riding around and drinking. Remember how cold it was and the flat tire? It took me awhile to get used to you driving my car but now I trust you completely. I had a blast ~~at~~ working with you ~~at~~ at the Sonic and going riding around afterwards. I hope we have some classes next year together so we can talk all the time. Well gee, thanks alot for being around to listen to my problems and being a special friend to me.

Love ya always,
Debbie

Motion pictures and photographs capture the essence of life. They record for history our opinions, moods, dreams, and predicaments. They entertain us while showing reflections of ourselves. As we view films, we often forget the cooperation between crew members that is essential for a worthwhile production. The directors, the producers, the stuntmen, the understudies, and most of all, the cast, must work together in harmony or the time is wasted. 1978 Eagle was the title of our production. Our crew endeavored to chronicle the events that made the year special. We compiled everything about you, as individuals, that made you work together as a unique group. Cast and crew alike cooperated under a strained situation, our burnt school, and finished with a year worthy of our best memories. We felt that each member of our cast, the students of Weatherford High School, was a Star in himself. Every person had a quality that made him stand out in the crowd. Since we believed in the song, "You Ought to be in Pictures," we produced our film as a tribute to you, the Stars of W.H.S. And now we, the Eagle Staff, present to you the 1978 Eagle. Towering Inferno Strikes W.H.S.

A STAR IS BORN

You Are The Billboard
Of Our Memories

"Fine staff, quality of students, and fine community," summarizes Mr. Gaunt's reasons for staying at Weatherford High. He is a graduate of Weatherford High and Southwestern State. He later obtained his master's degree from Oklahoma State University. He is married and has three children.

In past years, he has taught in Burns Flat and at Yukon, but he will be best remembered at Weatherford High. When Mr. Gaunt is mentioned around the students, they do not think of him as a principal, but more as a father and friend. Mr. Gaunt likes working with students which is evident by the high opinions the students hold of him.

We would like to say thank you to the man who shoulders our burdens, communicates as a friend, and keeps school running as smoothly as possible. Especially for his endurance and understanding in our post-fire months, we dedicate the 1978 Eagle to our esteemed principal, Mr. Carol Gaunt.

THE

UNDERSTUDIES

Even though the junior class of 1978 was the smallest class in Weatherford High School, they showed themselves to be outstanding in every aspect of school life. Two of the highlights of the '77-'78 school year for the juniors were purchasing class rings and experiencing the excitement of planning and attending the junior-senior banquet.

The junior class sponsors were Mrs. Becky Leonard, Mrs. Ruby Smith, and Mr. Steve Westmoreland. These sponsors were behind the class one hundred percent and were helpful in arousing students to help clean up the football stadium.

Each member of the junior class cooperated in working concession stands and selling homecoming mums. These projects were the major source of funds that went toward the junior-senior banquet and their future class trip.

The junior class had a big part in keeping the spirit of W.H.S. high. This class will always have fond memories of their last year of school on Broadway.

The junior class was led by their class officers, who are from left to right: Keith Boedecker, Student Council Representative; Dana Leatherman, Secretary-Treasurer; Trey Atkins, Vice President; Kerri Sawatzky, President; and Brent Bergen, Business Manager.

The sophomore class entered high school anxious even though the classrooms were scattered throughout the campus. Under the circumstances they adapted to high school life well. Many of the kids came into high school looking forward to getting behind the steering wheel for the first time. They also experienced having to write research papers using such topics as: Child Abuse, Rodeo, Runaways, E.S.P., etc. The sophomores were sponsored by Mrs. Twanda Page, Miss Maureen Stuckey, Mr. Jack Elder. The class of 80' had a very busy year participating in all high school activities and sports.

Freshmen Initiate Underclassmen

This year's WJHS freshmen class rated as one of the premiere freshmen classes ever.

The freshmen football team led off the year with an outstanding record. This action generated the spirit that lasted throughout the year. The freshmen cheerleaders kept the spirit going in the halls, pep rallies, and at the games. Pep Club parties were a favorite activity for the class. The parties usually turned into an initiation for underclassmen which the freshmen enjoyed performing. Halloween night was, as usual, a favorite pastime for the ninth graders. They seemed to stick together on that night as they did the rest of the year.

The students of the top class of the junior high kept busy with elective classes. Many of them chose high school band, Home Economics, and Industrial Arts for examples. Boys of the class could participate in Key Club, a high school organization. Add all these extra activities plus the responsibility of the concession stand and the head class of the junior high had a very busy year.

Through New Adventures

One new addition to our school system this year was the seventh grade class. Each individual in the class had to develop a new pattern of habit. There was no more recess, a favorite pastime of grade schoolers. There was no more milk in the afternoons or lining up after recess and for lunch. These everyday actions have become obsolete, replaced by being able to eat downtown for lunch. Also, the seventh graders became familiar with a totally different type of extracurricular activity — initiation. This act was performed at pep club parties. These acts included: being covered with shaving cream, being thrown into swimming pools, and being toilet-papered.

All was not a loss, though, as the seventh grade was well represented in Thompson Junior High. They were represented in Student Council, Stephanie Foster became Miss Spring Sports, some seventh graders became part of the fine Junior High band, and, last but not least, they were represented by five fantastic sponsors: Bob Bailey, Diane Christensen, Harold Powers, Zoie McClendon, and Tom Bergman.

The experience gained by the seventh grade was helpful toward a better future in the Weatherford Public School system.

Staff Repeats With Excellent Yearbook

June 6, 1977 marked the beginning of the 1978 Eagle yearbook. On this date, the staff and their sponsor, Mrs. Vicki Ralph, journeyed to Clinton, Oklahoma, to the Taylor Publishing Company Workshop. In October, the yearbook posse, composed of fourteen members, attended the Oklahoma Interscholastic Press Association Conference at Oklahoma University in Norman, Oklahoma. The purpose of these workshops were to broaden the students' minds in developing a good yearbook.

The kick-off sales assembly was very successful. Entertainment was provided by the staff. Many "famous" celebrities were on hand to perform. This led to the crowning of the yearbook queens. The yearbooks arrived in early May and the yearbook staff hosted a signing party. Each month the group had a yearbook party. They played games, went on treasure hunts, and ate enormous amounts of food. The members got along real well and worked hard all year to produce a fantastic yearbook.

Journalism Creates Sensational Paper

Journalism for the 1977-78 school year was full of new faces. The entire staff, excepting Bryan Green and Bobbie Pigg, experienced their first year in producing a newspaper.

In October, Journalism attended the fall session of the OIPA Clinic at Oklahoma University, and then in April, they attended the spring session.

Each month, the staff competed in the OIPA Newspaper Contest. Winners of the competition included Bryan Green and Chelly Belanger.

Led by their sponsor, Ms. Kathy Strong, the staff succeeded in creating a fantastic newspaper.

1) Jamie Smith and John Sullivan discuss their deadline with editor, Chelly Belanger. 2) Sharon Clear searches her purse for her proofreading glasses. 3) Bobbie Pigg finds working on the newspaper a rewarding challenge. 4) Carolyn Lawter and Carmen Whitfield look closely over their work. 5) Phil Lanier looks on as Clint Thomas examines his creation. 6) The members of Journalism are, row 1: Carolyn Lawter, Sharon Clear, Ms. Kathy Strong, and Bobbie Pigg; Row 2: Bryan Green, Carmen Whitfield, Phil Lanier, Chelly Belanger, Clint Thomas, Jamie Smith, John Sullivan, and Jo Lusk.

Student Council Promotes School Unity

The 1977-78 WHS Student Council was led by four seniors and one junior. Eric Collier was president; Max Janzen, vice president; Kristen Kelley, secretary; Tony Friesen, treasurer; and Brian Adler, reporter. The officers attended the State Leadership Summer Workshop at Edmond and the State Student Council Convention at Woodward. They discovered ideas for use at WHS and made many new friends from across the state of Oklahoma. The officers of student council and presidents of the organizations represented WHS at the Freedom Forum in Oklahoma City. Each Monday morning at 8:00 A.M., the student council met. Some of the activities that the 45 members accomplished were a Spirit Week, two dances, and a National School Assembly on archery. The student council helped with the Community Fund Drive and helped E Club with the queen coronations. The council substituted for the high school teachers during Teacher Appreciation Day and presented the Veteran's Day Assembly. Each month two members represented the high school council at the Weatherford Public School Board of Education meetings. The group, accompanied by their sponsor, Mrs. Edwardene Garrison, traveled to the Sub-District Workshop at Watonga during the first semester. In April, they traveled to the District Convention at Kingfisher. Amazingly, the only money-raising project the group had was selling cokes in between classes. The student council did its best to keep the student body unified to make this another great year for WHS.

Spanish Club Flies To Mexico

El Club de espanol consisted of 45 Spanish learning students. The highlight of the year was the trip to Mexico. Around 40 people made the trip to spend eight glorious days in Mexico City and sunny Acapulco. To raise funds for the trip, the club sold tapes and records, conducted a newspaper drive, built a homecoming float, and sold hot chocolate, cokes, and donuts.

As usual, the group, along with their sponsor, Mrs. Vicki Ralph, attended the State Fair of Oklahoma in September. Afterwards the club ate at Casa Bonita.

At Christmas time, the Spanish classes made piñatas. The Christmas party was held at Susan and Michele Zoeller's house. The evening began with the group going on a posada, a religious custom observed by Mexico. After that the club broke piñatas and ate tacos. It was a busy and interesting year for the Spanish Club.

FTA Contributes Services

Officers of Future Teachers of America conducted executive meetings with their sponsor, Mrs. Brenda Lumpkin, every Wednesday afternoon.

The thirty-five members of FTA sponsored a raffle, from which the club earned their funds for the remainder of the year. The club members were also involved in the Teacher Appreciation Day Assembly, imitating the professors of our school.

FTA held their annual Christmas party in the home of Mrs. Brenda Lumpkin. Refreshments were served while the group conversed.

During the second semester, members of the organization found out what teaching was all about, substituting for grade school teachers during meetings.

The highlight of the year was observed every month during their interesting nightly programs which included guest speakers, discussion, and refreshments.

F.B.L.A. Gains Rolling Start

In its second year of existence, Weatherford F.B.L.A. got off to a rolling start in spite of the fire at W.H.S. last spring. New officers were elected in September and those officers attended orientation on the O.B.U. campus in Shawnee in September. Twenty-eight members participated in the two fund raising activities during the fall semester. Coke and doughnut sales netted the club $600, while sales of "Letterettes" earned $270. Money from both projects paid the way for chapter members to attend a three-day State Leadership Conference in Tulsa in the Spring. While at the Conference, students participated in state contests. Every student attending entered one contest and tried to best the record of the chapter who brought honors home last year. For their community service the local chapter participated in the State F.B.L.A. project by having a Bounce-a-thon in February (heart month) with all proceeds going to the American Heart fund.

Key Club Proves To Be An Effective Club

Key Club had an outstanding year with an increase of 25 members. They were involved in many important school and civic projects. Key Club presided over the Kiwanis meeting during Key Club week in November. Key Club Sweetheart, Lynette Chastain provided musical entertainment. Key Club invited girls to join and they created a good percentage. Another very important program was a request that Key Club circulated for naming the road around that new school "Eagle Drive." The Club attended Kiwanis by sending two members each Monday. Key Club hosted a Town and Gown tea for teachers and businessmen in December. They started the Big Brother program for the club. Some of the performances the concert band made were at the Elk City Festival, District Concert Contest. The band entertained the townspeople with a Christmas concert and a spring concert.

Individual musicians practiced hard in many activities to improve their talents. Some of these activities were the All Region Band, the All State Band, the District Solo and Ensemble Contest, and the State Solo and Ensemble Contest. Each person did well, and learned much from the experience.

Stage Band I worked hard and enjoyed playing a different style of music — Jazz. Each member was very dedicated and played in Stage Band before or after school hours.

Some of the activities the Stage Band participated in were the SWOSU Jazz Festival and the State Stage Band Contest at Oklahoma University.

Whether or not the band won every activity they participated in, they always had an excellent attitude. The group felt that it did not matter if they won or lost, just as long as they performed their best. This attitude acknowledged the fact that the W.H.S. band had a winning year.

Cheerleaders Obtain High Honors

The cheerleaders had a very busy season. They started their exciting, hard-working year as they prepared for cheerleading camp. They attended World Cheerleading Council (WCC) here at Southwestern. This was the first year the camp was held in Weatherford. The cheerleaders all around came out on top at the end of the week. They received three superior ribbons, one excellent ribbon, and brought home the spirit banner.

Mrs. Lumpkin and Miss Carlson were the new cheerleading sponsors for the 1977-'78 school year. They helped the cheerleaders out this summer to organize the Midnight Swim. Considering the condition of the weather, the squad cleared $125.00. Other money projects included selling ads for football programs and later selling the programs at games, selling Goo-Goo's, and for every football game they sold spirit ribbons.

The cheerleaders helped raise spirit by throwing miniature footballs and decorating the fieldhouse. On homecoming, there was a honk parade to help lead the football team on to victory. Also, the cheerleaders displayed their school spirit during a particularly busy winter season by attending the basketball games and wrestling matches.

Indian Club Attends Out-Of-State Conventions

The Weatherford High School Indian Club was one of the busiest organizations in the '77-78 year. Led by sponsors Mickey Capture and Harold Powers and community sponsor Kenneth Kauley the Indian Club was a leader among other Clubs in Oklahoma. They attended a National Indian Club Convention at a Boy Scout ranch between Cimarron and Eagles Nest, New Mexico, in October. They also attended a convention in Colorado in March. J. R. Cook funded the trips out-of-state, and the Indian Club later reimbursed him. They held a benefit dance in which they earned $307.00 and also a disco-dance in Colony the week-end before Christmas. The officers for Indian Club are Jack LeFlore, president; Edna Sage, vice-president; Carolyn Crow, secretary-treasurer; Stacia Hart, H.S. Student Council Rep.; LeAnn Littlebear, J.H. THE STUNTS

Eagles Torment Cordell Blue

Eagle football coach Jim Ritz was very optimistic about his team at the beginning of the year. He felt like he could have a good team, but he knew the teams his crew had to face would be very tough. Indeed, how tough those teams were!

The Weatherford bunch opened the season with a grueling task at eventual Class A state champion Watonga. The Watonga Eagles, probably the best team the Eagles faced all year, won the game 27-0. The Eagle clan opened their home season with the Hennessey Eagles. Hennessey was rated in the top 10 in Class 2-A. The Weatherford team knew they had a tough assignment but felt they could pull an upset. Hennessey won 21-0. Sayre was the Eagle's first victim of the season. The Eagles of Sayre were defeated 21-7. Hobart came to town, and it seemed like Weatherford teams always had problems with Hobart. Hobart continued its hex on Weatherford and won 19-0. September 30th was designed as homecoming. Spirit was running high at WHS. A spirit week, pep assembly, and a honk parade was planned. A dance was planned, but the failure of the entertainment to show up caused cancellation. The sky-high Eagles scorched the Blue Devils from Cordell 32-0. Entering conference play the Eagles were 2-3. The Frederick Bombers and Ithaca Archie were the first conference opponents for the Eagle team. Archie and the Bombers bounced the Eagles 14-0. Next, Weatherford traveled to Hinton to play Anadarko. The bunch from WHS felt they were "ripped off" at Hinton. Anadarko came away with a homecoming victory 28-12. Weatherford's archrival Clinton came to town and how they did! Some students from Clinton thought it would be funny to paint slogans on part of what-is-left of WHS. The students also painted signs at Milam Stadium. The WHS students got the last laugh when Clinton students arrived in Weatherford to scrub off the paint from the buildings. To top all of that, Clinton students had a honk parade in downtown Weatherford. The WHS football team and students were really steaming. The team gave Clinton all they wanted. It was a real good game, but Clinton edged the Reds 19-6. The Mustang Broncos entertained the Big Red for its last out-of-town game of the season. The Eagles led most of the game, but Mustang scored on a long touchdown pass in the closing minutes of the game and won 12-7. Elk City was probably the second best team the Eagles faced all year. Elk City played a spectacular game and thoroughly defeated the host Eagles. The Eagles never did get beat badly in any of the eight games they lost. They gave each rival team a good game.

Freshmen Outscore Opponents 222-38

It was a fantastic year for the freshman Eaglets. The WJHS Eaglets opened the season with Hobart. The Reds defeated the little Bearcats, 14-0. Carnegie was then blasted by the Big Red Machine, 32-6. The Eaglets then journeyed to Watonga to face a fast Watonga team. It didn't make any difference, though, because the WJHS team won a laugh, 34-0. Coach Dennis Seifried thought Kingfisher would give the junior high team a big test, but eighth-grader Glen Jones thought different. Jones galloped for 258 yards and his Eaglet team raced past Kingfisher, 44-6. The next game was a defensive battle between Elk City and Weatherford. The boys of head coach Dennis Seifried won, 6-0. The team then traveled way down South to Walters and stomped Walters, 32-8. Next the crew of Eaglets hosted and roasted the Warriors from Anadarko, 30-0. Arch-enemy Clinton made its way to Weatherford to try to snap the Eaglet winning streak. The Whirlwinds failed, 16-0. The last game of the season was a dandy. Weatherford had a perfect 8-0 record and Woodward had an undefeated record. It was a close game, but the Woodward Boomers squeaked out an 18-14 victory. It was a disappointing loss for the Eaglets.

The 1977 Eaglets probably had the best team in WJHS history. The boys worked hard all year and were honored at the end of the year with a football banquet.

Weatherford Junior High 8th grade football season opened on September 6, with the Eaglets edging Carnegie at home in a showdown of defenses, 8-6. The team then made their first out-of-town appearance, traveling to Kingfisher where they were outscored, 18-6. Two weeks later the 8th grade was at Milam Stadium to take on the Anadarko Warriors. The Eaglets came up on the short end, being shutout, 26-0. Elk City became the gridders' first victim, 28-6. The Red and White were then at home for the remainder of the year. They first met arch-rival Clinton in a nerve-racking, double overtime, 20-14 defeat. Weatherford's final game was played against Woodward. The Eaglets were frustrated by the Boomers, 20-0.

The 7th grade Eaglets suffered a disheartening season, winning one of five games.

The Weatherford High School boys basketball team started the 1978 basketball season on a winning note by defeating Mustang, 47-46. Next, the cagers traveled to the Mustang festival and conquered Woodward and Guymon. Things were looking good for the Eagles, and they went to the Crooked Oak Tournament with confidence. Their first game of the tournament, against Deer Creek, was a success; but the next night, when the cagers challenged Wewoka, they experienced their first loss. The Eagles were defeated by Crooked Oak and received fourth place in the tournament. Trying to rebound from their loss, the Eagles journeyed to Clinton to meet the Red Tornadoes. It was unsuccessful and the Eagles were defeated, 50-60. The Eagles were determined to get back on a winning streak, and their determination captured a win against Anadarko. To prepare for the Hub-City Tournament, the Eagles challenged the Mustang Broncos, but were defeated, 35-61. At Clinton's Hub-City Tournament, Weatherford captured the consolation championship by defeating Woodward and Elk City, and losing to Guymon. The Eagles wished to repeat their performance against Elk City and they performed well, with a win over the Elks. When Crooked Oak arrived in Big W Country, the Eagles were all fired up and won the game. Weatherford met their arch rival, the Clinton Red Tornadoes, for the second time of the season. They were unsuccessful in their attempt for a victory. The Eagles recovered with ease from their defeat and they stomped Carnegie, 56-34. Homecoming was celebrated in fine fashion with a win over the Cordell Blue Devils. After defeating Elk City two times previously, the Eagles were expecting a win. But when the game was over, the scoreboard read, Eagles — 36; Elks — 51. When the two Eagle teams, Weatherford and Watonga, met; Weatherford proved themselves to be the better of the two. Weatherford completed their regular season games with Watonga and Anadarko.

At the beginning of the season, the Weatherford girls knew this would be the year of the Eaglette. Everybody around WHS was disappointed when the Eaglettes were ranked 11th in Class 2-A.

The first game of the season was at home against the highly-rated Class 3-A Mustang Broncos. It was an exciting game with our girls winning 53-45. Then the girls had to get ready for McGuinness. The Irish would be very tough playing at home, but the Eaglettes edged past them 62-51. The first tournament of the year was at Noble. The Eaglettes rolled past Wewoka in the first round 64-24. Crooked Oak was the next victim of the Big Red falling 63-37. Weatherford met the host team Noble in the finals. The crew of Eaglettes won handily 75-62 and captured the first place trophy. Next, the Clinton Lady Tornadoes entertained the bunch from Weatherford. It was unfortunate for Clinton because the Red machine blasted the Lady Tornadoes 76-56. The Lady Warriors from Anadarko came to town planning to break the Eaglette winning streak. Anadrako had been defeated only once. They gave Weatherford a stiff challenge but failed to win by losing 60-52. It was now time for the Eaglettes to pay a visit at Mustang. Mustang had given the WHS girls a tough encounter the first game of the season. It was a close game, but the Reds won 52-47. At the end of the first semester the Eaglettes were undefeated with an 8-0 record. The prestigious Lindsay All-Girls Tournament was next for the Weatherford team. Putnam City was the first round opponent for the then 5th ranked Eaglettes. The Big Red rolled 59-42. For the second time of the season the WHS girl roundballers met the McGuinness Irish. McGuinness went down in defeat by a score of 56-44. For the second year in a row the Eaglettes were in the finals of the Lindsay Tourney. All year the girls wanted to play

Lindsay and finally got their chance in the finals. Many fans from Weatherford journeyed to Lindsay to see the host, 9th ranked Leopards, play the 5th ranked sky-high Eaglettes. Weatherford showed Lindsay who was boss with a convincing 61-49 win. Jamie Smith scored a career high of 45 points in the finals. After the Lindsay Tourney, the girls moved up to the #2 ranking in Class 2-A. Elk City and Crooked Oak both fell to the Eaglettes. Elk City lost 47-28 while Crooked Oak lost 48-40.

Eaglettes had seven straight victories beating Crooked Oak 48-40, Clinton 57-28, Carnegie 50-34, Cordell 51-30, Elk City 42-28, McGuiness 65-40, and Watonga 68-24. The Eaglettes finished regular season with Watonga and Anadarko as their last opponents.

The Eaglettes continued their winning success by taking the District and Regional championships. Then they advanced to the Area tournament where misfortune struck the girls. Harrah, the eventual State Runner-Up, and Kingfisher, a State semi-finalist, eliminated the Eaglettes from further competition. Although they lost in the Area tournament, they finished with a spectacular 25-2 season.

Ninth grade basketballers had a great year. With Coach Dodd and Coach Lumpkin behind the boys, they played to a 5-5 season. Each game had its own personality; each was close, and each well played. The team played their first game at home with a close win of 34-33 over Carnegie. The team traveled to the Fort Cobb Tournament and lost to Cordell. The next game was also with Cordell, and they were defeated again. Watonga proved to be an easy win; the boys won 44-12. The game against Clinton was a tough pull, and though their efforts were tremendous, they lost, 39-46. At the County Tournament, the defeated Hammond and Custer City; but, lost again to Clinton.

Their next three games were away; they lost to Elk City and Clinton, and won at Watonga. Snow delayed the Elk City game. Their last game of the season was against Cordell with a win of 43-38.

The 8th grade basketball team had an outstanding season. The games were few but well played. They opened their season against Cordell, winning 36-28.

Watonga was their next opponent. Watonga proved to be too much and they lost, 29-39. The team defeated Clinton and Deer Creek. The boys lost to Carrier and closed out their season with a win over Cordell.

The 7th grade team played five games. They won their first game over Cordell.

They lost their next two games against Clinton and Carrier. They defeated Carnegie; Carnegie came back to defeat the boys in the last game of the season.

All in all, the 7th grade boys did well.

The team was coached by Jim Ritz.

Weightlifting was an elective class that the athletes had to choose from in out-of-season sports. Both junior high and high school participate in this class. The main purpose of weightlifting was to prepare the athletes for sports the following year. It helped to build and strengthen the muscles of the boys and build their endurance. The weight lifting class also added competition between the athletes and promoted good sportsmanship.

W.H.S. Students Work Their Way To The Top

Many W.H.S. students worked part time during, or after school hours. These students worked for several reasons.

Some worked to prepare for a future career, others worked because they are bored, some enjoyed meeting new people, many worked for the fun of it, but most of them worked for the money!

Whatever the reasons, W.H.S. students were gaining valuable experience dealing with people, and learning how to handle new situations.

Most of these workers had the satisfaction of earning their own money, and spending it the way they wished. Students working for the first time, felt a sense of responsibility, pride, and achievement.

What was the biggest problem W.H.S. students had when getting ready for school? Most would say it was just leaving a soft, warm bed. Getting ready for school was sometimes a long, boring yet necessary procedure. For some it might have taken only a few minutes, but the realization of having to go to school made it even more difficult. Once the preparations were complete, and the results were acceptable, one realized it was worth the time invested.

New Kid In Town

Music was a part of every teenager's life. Music ranging from the hard rock sound of Kiss to the mellow sound of Barry Manilow; from the themes of movies like "Star Wars" to the cuteness of "Short People," affected the daily lives of students at W.H.S. Music shaped the lives of students. Slang terms resulted from the more popular songs, "Cold as Ice," "You Light Up My Life," and many others. Music was everywhere.

People rushed to their cars to listen to their radios and tapes. Tape-players could be found in almost every car, and everyone had his favorite song. Standing in the parking lot at W.H.S., one could hear an array of music and talent. The hits of '78 were "our" songs, the ones we could identify with, the ones we will never forget.

Food was the name of the game, and W.H.S. students knew it well. They had learned the tricks of the trade, and knew what it took to get to the food, eat a "Nutritional" meal, and be back to class in a mere 40 minutes.

The students at Weatherford could not complain about variety. They could eat a different style of food each day. For example: Monday they could have Italian food as the main dish; Tuesday, barbecue; Wednesday, the famous American hamburger, Thursday, Mexican food; and for Friday, why not stop by the school cafeteria? For dessert, a quick stop at a quick shop would suit anyone's fancy.

It might have seemed like a high price to pay, considering all the calories; but, "What else is so nice for the price?"

THE FINALE

. . . and so ended the school year 1978, a year of endurance and rebuilding. At times we struggled, but we made our film a success. Each character in our cast contributed toward a sense of overall well-being and harmony which blended our scenes and performances into a closely knit plot. The drama of life at W.H.S. unfolded to reveal the triumphs of each person, for everyone did his part to maintain a winning tradition. Whether it was at playing basketball, placing in a livestock show, making National Honor Society, or earning his first dollar, each of us did something to make us feel important. And it was this winning characteristic that gave us Star Quality. We could be proud in knowing that we gave our best performance as the curtain drew to a close on 1978.

The School That Burned

How strange to see an empty space
In which a school once stood;
Rafters made of air and sky
Which once were made of wood.

Foundations once were firm and strong;
Trode on by many feet;
Foundations now that in the rain
Flow down to stain the street.

Walls that housed so many names
That echoed through the years,
Are walls no longer visible
But washed away like tears.

Halls that once rang with laughter
As students made their way,
Are filtered now with silence
Ash and memories of yesterday.

What makes a place of learning
A school that stands the test?
Not bricks and paint and mortar,
But visions, dreams, and quests.

What makes it worth remembering
Long after it is gone?
The good it held for others
Long after lingers on.

What once was there has vanished
Though memories still remain;
One might forget the building,
But what erases pain?

Ron,

I am sorry I NEVER KNEW you in high school, but I would've been a little young. But I am glad that we have each other now. No years of high school would or can match ~~the~~ years we will share together. You are in a million and in the lucky lady who you chose to be your wife. I love you a great deal. More then you will EVER Realize.

Your loving Wife.

Cadye

Ronnie,
To a very sweet innocent, young child of society,
Harry is here!

Mark Weber
"Dr. Cool"

Ronnie, to a real neat person, who I have enjoyed going to school ^{with}. Remember come out for football and you'll do alright.
